

October 2, 2002 | Michele Crockett
Windows & .NET Magazine Names MEC 2002 Best of Show Finalists

Windows & .NET Magazine announced finalists for the Best of Show Awards for MEC 2002. Finalists were selected in five categories: management, mobility, networking/infrastructure, security, and collaboration and productivity. Windows & .NET Magazine editors will announce the Best of Show winners in Booth #526 at 12 p.m. on October 10 during MEC 2002 in Anaheim, California.

The field included more than 174 entries. Janet Robbins, editor in chief of Windows & .NET Magazine, said, "We chose finalists based on the products' strategic importance to the market, the competitive advantages, and the value to the customer."

The collaboration and productivity category finalists are Add-on Products' WebTeam Central, Aimware's TeamCentral, Casahl Technology's ecknowledge, eOptimize's About: Time for Exchange Server, and Software Technologies' Softwire.

